

Tlalamac – Mexico State, Mexico

Tlalamac Clinic in action. Picture:
The brick walls on the upstairs dormitory are being worked on by a team from Greenville, SC. during a construction and medical team work week.

Tlalamac: A number of teams from Mississippi, South Carolina and Colorado have assisted this small town with church and clinic construction.

It is located about three hours southeast of Mexico City near Ozumba and Chimalhuacan in the State of Mexico.

The church and adjoining classrooms are virtually complete. However the upstairs parsonage is waiting for construction to begin. The construction of the second floor of the clinic is well under way. Plumbing and electrical work will soon be needed to finish this project.

Mission teams that provide medical assistance are important to this town and several hundred patients are usually seen each week. The medical dispensary is partially stocked with basic supplies.

Teams are lodged and fed in the clinic compound.